A Rosebud Dinner.
The very name invokes a vision of lovely girls, fragrant flowers, soft lights, entrancing music, and youth and hope and all things beautiful. Were you ever fortunate enough to be a guest at one? Or do you know how this delightful society function is conducted? You ought to know, whether you have daughters to "bring out" or not; and you may learn all about it, etiquette and everything, through the charming paper, charmingly illustrated, entitled "A Rosebud in Winter in New York," published in DEMOCRAT'S FAMILY MAGAZINE for December. This holiday number is plethoric with good things, introduced by an artistic gem, "Christmas Chimes," a reproduction of a picture exhibited in the last Paris salon, painted by a noted American artist. Then follow a dozen copies of world-famous paintings, illustrating a splendid article on "Noted Madonnas," an especially timely illustrated article, "The Wondrous Star," which furnishes much interesting information about the "three wise men" who followed where it led; and there are superb portraits of the lamented Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, and England's late poet-laureate, Tennyson. If you are in doubt what presents to make for Christmas, you can't do better than consult the "Home Art" department in this comprehensive number of an ideal Family Magazine, which contains something of interest to every one who may open it—good stories, good poems, lots of valuable suggestions, and nearly 300 superior illustrations. And all is furnished for 20 cents a copy, or $2 a year. Published by W. JENNINGS DEMOCRAT, 15 East 14th Street, New York.

Another Coal Combination.
The Bloomfield Coal & Supply Company is making a combination of regular size, chestnut coal, and No. 2 nut, half-half, and is selling it at $4.75 a ton net cash. We also sell No. 2 nut coal of very fine quality at $4.00 a ton net cash. These coals burn well in any small stoves or base-burning stoves. No half-tons sold at above prices.—Adv.

Miss Adele Weber has been engaged to appear in recitals with the Ariele Ladies' Quartette at the opening concert entertainment of the Star Course on Wednesday evening, November 23rd. Have you purchased your course ticket? No time to lose now as about three hundred have already been sold at Geo. M. Wood's drug store.—Adv.

Consumption Cured.
An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands a new and infallible remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, and all Throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to any who desire it, a full and complete directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. A. ROY, 109 South 9th Street, Philadelphia, Pa.—Adv.

A Letter From Mr. Peleebet.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE CITIZEN:

SIR: It is seldom worth while to reply to untruths or false statements, even when publicly uttered or published in the local papers, yet it seems but just that I should state some facts in regard to Robert Peleebet's cesspool which receives the sewage from his houses on Ashland Avenue.

In the first place, the cesspools are in such a position that very few of the sufferers from their mismanagement can tell from whence arose the stench that filled the air when they were pumped out to irrigate Mr. Peleebet's pasture lot. The first one, about 10 feet in diameter and 7 feet deep, was dug in a corner, out of sight of any street, about 5 feet back of my hen-yard and near the back door of my barn. This overflowed into a long ditch partly filled with corn-stalks, and having other open drains trending towards a small brook which drains the low lands north of Washington Avenue, and empties into Second River. This plan was continued until the Newark Board of Health stopped him from draining into this brook.

About this time Grant A. Wheeler, Theodore Harvey, and myself personally complained to the Town Committee of the nuisance. The Town Committee examined the premises and ordered the open overflow to be filled. Before long the neighbors complained of a stench in the above-mentioned brook, especially on damp evenings. Several of them followed up the brook and found a blind drain from these cesspools emptying the overflow into the brook, but so placed under stones and in bushes that it must be searched for to find it. Mr. Corby, as Health Inspector, found it, too. Then twelve or more made a written complaint to Mr. Baxter as Health Inspector. He has also on his books quite a number of complaints from several persons. Mr. Corby has four complaints on his books from various persons since 1890, and yet Mr. Peleebet states to the Town Committee that I am the only one who has made any complaint. I positively deny that I ever tampered with the pipes, but I have been active in endeavoring to make our Health Board see that this was a pest-hole.

Drs. E. M. Ward and W. H. White have both, accompanied by the Health Inspector, examined it, and decided, that in its then condition, it was unhealthy. The nuisance exists to-day, even worse than ever. Two of the Town Committee visited it after Mr. Peleebet's statements to the Town Committee (a report of which was published last week) and can testify that it was not a desirable adjunct to residences. Mr. Corby says he will be very glad to meet Mr. Peleebet at any time on this question.

About two years ago Mr. Peleebet constructed a large overflow cesspool, which filled up in about three days. Question: If the overflow fills in three days where does that empty itself? Mr. Gustav Bruett says that one of his cows nearly died from drinking what Mr. Peleebet calls "the pure water from these cesspools."

Buy Your Clothing at a Clothing Store and Your Toys at a Toy Store.
When you see a person with a clothing bundle under his arm and a checker board or other toy in his hand you may be sure he has not been to Watson's, as there are no presents of any kind displayed in any of their Broad or Market Street windows to attract customers. Sensational advertising, gifts, prizes, fares paid, discounts to clubs, expensive signs on fences, personal solicitation and commissions to runners are not needed to sell the kind of clothing Watson & Co. get up, and if they give presents to all their customers it would compel them to raise their low range of prices fully twenty per cent., besides many would not like to be seen carrying these trashy toys home; and twenty per cent. added to their prices would mean $18 for the suits they now sell for $15, and so on through their entire stock.

Better buy your clothing at net cash prices and your toys where you like, as you may then save a big discount, or make your own commission. The truth is that correct cut, perfect fitting clothing, made up as it should be, is in demand as soon as finished, and if the prices are low and uniform to all alike, needs very little in the way of advertising to sell it. Watson & Co., from their long experience in the making of clothing, know how to select a very high class of cutters and have the latest tailoring designs long before they reach Newark, and with the immense stock they carry are able to offer such attractive suits that they practically have no competitors in the finer grades of garments.

Try them once, if you are not already a customer of this popular Clothing House, and see how their hand-out garments will improve your dress appearance.—Newark Item.

The Star Course opening programme for Wednesday evening comprises: quartettes, trios, duets, and solos by the famous Boston Ariele Ladies' Quartette. Miss Adele Weber, the humorous and dramatic reciter, will also appear as an extra attraction. Course tickets for all five entertainments are rapidly selling at Mr. Wood's drug-store. No one should miss the chance of securing a course ticket for this excellent series. Just think of it, all five for $1.25, including a reserved seat. Scholar's ticket, $1.00.—Adv.

Winning Promotion.
Teacher—George, yesterday afternoon I saw you whispering in school to Herbert Little. I shall keep you in after school is dismissed to-day. George—Will you keep Herbert in too? Teacher—No! You are the only one to be punished. George—I will not remain, and I now serve upon you a demurrer. I know that you saw me whispering to Herbert, and after school was dismissed I at once consulted my lawyer. I repeated to him what I said to Herbert, and he informed me that you had no case. Teacher—George, you have aggravated your offense. Now tell me what you said to Herbert. George—I told him that you were the most handsome pair of Edward's shoes that ever graced a gentleman's feet. Teacher—Ah, George, you can go home, and to-morrow I will promote you to a higher class, and after school I will take you to 270 and 272 Greenwich Street, New York, and present you with a pair of the same kind I wear.—Adv.

"Seeing is Believing."

And a good lamp must be simple; when it is not simple it is not good. Simple, Beautiful, Good—these words mean much, but to see "The Rochester" will impress the truth more forcibly. All metal, tough and seamless, and made in three pieces only, it is absolutely safe and unbreakable. Like Aladdin's of old, it is indeed a "wonderful lamp," for its marvelous light is purer and brighter than gas light, softer than electric light and more cheerful than either.

Look for this lamp. The Rochester. If the lamp dealer has not the genuine Rochester, and the style you want, send to us for our new illustrated catalogue, and we will send you a lamp early by express—your choice of over 2,000 varieties from the Largest Lamp Store in the World.

ROCHESTER LAMP CO., 42 Park Place, New York City.
